Terms of Use

Updated June, 2023

The Terms of Use outline the agreement between Key to Change Wellness, LLC (or Key to Change Chiropractic, LLC) and users of their website and application. The Application allows registered users to access Key to Change's services, which connect patients seeking physical therapy, chiropractic, and coaching services with qualified providers. By agreeing to the Terms of Use, users are granted a limited license to access and use the Application for personal, non-commercial purposes.

The Application and its content are protected by copyright, trademark, and other intellectual property laws, and users are not allowed to use the Application or its contents in a way that infringes upon these rights. Users may download or print copies of individual pages or documents from the Application for their personal or internal business purposes.

The Application and Services are intended for use as directed by Key to Change. Users may be required to register and create an account to access certain features of the Application. Users are responsible for keeping their account information confidential and notifying Key to Change of any unauthorized use or breach of security. The Application may require certain computer hardware and internet service to access and use it securely.

Users should be at least 18 years old to access and use the Application. The Application may allow users to provide feedback or comments, and by doing so, users grant Key to Change a license to use and distribute that content.

The Terms of Use also cover user conduct, payment processes, and the use of links to third-party websites. Users are responsible for complying with applicable laws while using the Application. The Agreement clarifies that it does not create any partnership, agency, or employment relationship between Key to Change and the users.

Key to Change may terminate user access to the Application at any time and for any reason, while users can terminate the Agreement by providing a written notice. The Agreement includes provisions for the protection of confidential information and disclaimers regarding the accuracy of user-provided information.
